WILDER'S PATENT SALAMANDER SAFES,

No. 25 MERCHANTS ROW, BOSTON, CORNER OF CHATHAM STREET.

The following letter from the proprietor of the Chelsea Laundry, is a proof of the superior qualities of this Safe:

CHESLEA, May 15, 1848.

John E. Wilder, Esq.—Dear Sir: In reply to your note, I have the pleasure to say that the books and papers contained in the Safe I bought of you, were perfectly legible and uninjured by fire at the burning of the Chelsea Laundry, on the night of the 10th instant. There were pepers and bank notes in the drawers of the Safe, which had no appearance of having passed through fire. The Safe was exposed to an intense heat for several hours.

Respectfully yours,
STEPHEN STILEY.

The following letter from the Superintendent of the Main Telegraph Company, is another proof of the superiority of JOHN E. WIL-DER'S Safe over all others:

BOSTON, Oct. 21, 1848.

John E. Wilder, Esq.—Dear Sir: The Safe I purchased of you was exposed to a great degree of heat at the burning of the Telegraph office in this city. It was in the fire six hours; the books and papers were uninjured, and the damage to the Safe very trifling, although it fell from the second story to the basement of the building. The little repair necessary to the Safe have been made, and we shall not need to return it. It is still as good as new.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES EDDY.

In addition to the above certificates in favor of these Safes, I received a Diploma and Silver Medal for the best Safe held in Boston, the DYSPEPSIA IN ITS WORST FORM.

stipation, flatulencies, disorders of the skin, liver ing, &c. &c. which lead to debilitate and weaken the system.

Female who suffer from a morbid and unnatural condition, will find this medicine of INESTIMABLE VALUE.

In all cases of General Debility this Medicine

ACTS LIKE A CHARM.

The following certificate is from an old gentleman who really acknowledges the Bitters the only thing that keeps him alive.

Dear Sir—I hereby offer you a willing testimony to your valuable Bitters; I hardly know where to find words to thank you for the good it has done me. I would not be without it on any account, and honestly believe that it is the only thing that keeps me alive.

I have recommended it to many of my friends; they all speak of it in the highest terms, which it richly deserves.

You are at liberty to refer any one to me at regards your valuable compound.

WALTER SIMONSON,

63 Fourth street, Williamsburg.

Read the following from an eminent physician:

The undersigned being acquainted with some of the ingredients of Hutchings' Vegetable Dyspepsia Bitters, and having used it for some time in his practice with every desired effect, he recommends this medicine from the certainty of its effect, and gives it a preference over all preparations in medicine for that distressing complaint, Dyspepsia.

T. HARDENBERG, M. D.,
No. 1 Beach street, N. Y.

From Luther A. Wyman, Esq., late President of New York Musical Society, now of Brooklyn:

The undersigned was afflicted with Dyspepsia of the worst form for one year and a half, during a greater portion of which time he made use of no remedies, but suffered the disease to take care of itself, until he was recommended to try Hutchings' Dyspepsia Bitters; he very soon derived benefit from the use of a few bottles of this medicine and now considers himself entirely well.

The undersigned has every confidence in the efficiency of Hutchings' Bitters for the cure of this troublesome and dangerous complaint, and he has no hesitation in recommending it as a most valuable medicine.

L. B. WYMAN,

33 Bowling Slip.

The following certificate is from Mr. Brady, the celebrated Daguerreotypist:

Having been afflicted very severely with Dyspepsia, together with extreme weakness, he was advised to take Hutchings' Dyspepsia Bitters, and have every reason to believe it has perfectly cured me. I have felt no symptoms of a return of the disease and believe from the effect it had on me that it will cure the worst case of Dyspepsia.

M. B. BRADY,

No. 205 Broadway, N. Y.

The Proprietor of this medicine has received many other certificates of cure, equally remarkable, of the various diseases for which this preparation is applicable; but the above are deemed necessary to satisfy any unprejudiced mind of its value and superiority above all other preparations.

NEWPORT,

BY CRANSTON & NORMAN, 127 THAMES STREET.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 20, 1851.

Short and Good.—Gov. Anthony, on returning from his seat, after Gov. Allen was sworn in, made a speech. It was not exactly in good taste to make it, because the maker was then a private citizen, and there was a little of an appearance of getting the advantage of the new magistrate, who is more a man of facts than of words. But Gov. Allen heard him, and said just enough in reply, as an elderly man might say to a younger one who was making a display. I fully appreciate the remarks you have made on this occasion. No exertion on my part shall be wanting to execute faithfully the duties of the office to which I have been elected." Which being interpreted after the manner of men, means—"Mr. Anthony, you have written a very pretty speech which will read well in the Journal. I shall go on, and attend to the business of my office." Well said, all to the point, quite sufficient.—Prov. Herald.

There is a great want of delicacy, to say the least of it, on the part of the editor of the Herald, in making such remarks as the above, in regard to Gov. Anthony, who is a public journalist, and who, although he might ably defend another, cannot well speak in his own defense, in such a case as this,—provided anything was required of him. The Herald says that the speech of Gov. Anthony, when he surrendered his chair of office to Gov. Allen, was not in good taste, because the maker was then a private citizen. Upon the same principle, and by the same profound rule of logic, the editor of the Herald would argue that when Gov. Anthony retired and Gov. Allen, at the same instant, took the chair, Gov. Anthony should have walked quietly down from the desk, without even shaking hands with Gov. Allen, or uttering a single courteous word to him,—because Gov. Anthony was then a private citizen. This, to be sure, is very sagacious and sound reasoning. The Herald says that Gov. Anthony took advantage of Gov. Allen, because the latter is "more a man of facts than of words." Perhaps the editor of the Herald would have had Gov. Anthony go to his successor, and tell him, in a very confidential manner, that he intended to make a few appropriate remarks when he surrendered his chair of office, and knowing that Gov. Allen was "more a man of facts than of words," and fearing that he might take him by surprise, and consequently disconcert him, he had taken the friendly precaution to inform him in advance of the fact, in order that he might arrange his ideas, and be prepared to say a few equally appropriate words in reply. The Editor of the Herald would no doubt have advised this course,—at any rate, such is the implication of his article; well, to be sure, it could have been friendly in Gov. Anthony, but it would have been paying a miserably poor compliment to the capacity of Gov. Allen. The idea of charging Henry B. Anthony with the desire of making a display, especially upon such an occasion, is perfectly preposterous; and none but the most vindictive would be silly enough to make such a charge against him. Every one who knows the man personally, is perfectly aware that nothing is more foreign to his character than a desire to make a display by speech-making. Gov. Anthony is not, and never has been, a speech-making man; there are few nobler pens than his, among the younger politicians of the country, and we have no doubt but that he could make a good speech, if he was disposed to,—at any rate, he gave us very satisfactory evidence upon which to found such a supposition, by the few remarks which he made Election day. But Gov. Anthony has no taste for such kind of display, and we doubt if he ever made half a dozen speeches, of any kind, in his life, although the opportunities have not by any means been wanting.

The few remarks which Gov. Anthony made, on the occasion, were exceedingly appropriate and gave general satisfaction to all, we believe, except the learned and tasteful editor of the Providence Herald. They were well conceived, modestly expressed and quietly spoken, and the man who cavils at them must have been endowed by nature with a fearfully querulous disposition; and we would recommend him to take frequent doses of Valerian, Frank's Vermifuge, and other correctives for a diseased system.

The fact is, Gov. Allen has unfortunately got into very bad company, and we suspect that he got rather more than he gained for, when he resigned himself to the affectionate embrace of the qualified Democracy, and accepted nomination for Governor.—

—He was treated most severely on the 17th of May, in New-Port, when Col.

Allen was to be married to him at the st. m. and escorted him to his residence. We have no doubt that the picture of Sir John Fa'st's ragged regulars came vividly up in Gov. Allen's mind, more than once, on that memorable occasion; and had the horses ranaway, provided they had taken some out-of-the-way street, we do not think that he would have been very sorry if he had only escaped with his neck whole. A few broken limbs would have been no circumstance to the torture through which his Excellency passed, during that memorable ride from the steamer to his house. He must have thought the distance about ten miles!

—We stated yesterday that two officers of the Third Regiment, stationed at fort Moultrie, had recently had a hostile meeting; we are informed by a friend that the officers named do not long to the Third Regiment.

—We could hardly believe the report when we saw it in an exchange, because it stated that the difficulty was in regard to a lady,—and it is well known that, until very recently, if it is not so now, the Third Regiment has been celebrated as an "army of bachelors." We think, however, that they are rapidly losing this remarkable distinction, if all reports are correct.

—An English paper says the World's Fair was got up expressly to entertain Queen Victoria, whose mind is bordering on insanity.

—The Providence Post reiterates its assertion that several Whigs were elected Notaries by the Democrats, at the late session of the General Assemby. Will it be kind enough to name them? We do not know of a single instance of the kind.

—The Court of Common Pleas, Judge Staples presiding, commences its May Term in this town this morning.—

There is not a great deal of business on the Docket.

—The Rt. Rev. Bishop Henshaw administered the Rite of Confirmation to 11 persons in Trinity Church last Sunday afternoon.

—The LATEST FASHION FOR LADIES.—

Mrs. Bloomer, who edits the "Lily" in an interior town of New York, thus describes her apparel:

"Our costume is as yet by no means perfected; there is a lack of harmony in the dress we now wear, which is not so different from the reigning fashion, except that our skirts have been robed of about a foot of their former length, and a pair of loose trowsers of the same material as the dress substituted. These latter extend from the waist to the ankle, and may be gathered into a band and buttoned round the ankle, or, what we think prettier, gathered or plaited up about two inches in depth, and left sufficiently wide for the foot to pass through and allow of their falling over the top of the garter. They may be trimmed to suit the taste of the wearer.

Instead of the whalebone bodice, the dress should be made with a sack front, entire from the shoulder to the knee, and a tight back, with the skirt gathered in as usual; or cut the whole in the sack style—fitting the form to the waist—and then let it swell out, giving sufficient fullness to the skirt. Shawls must be abandoned, and a sack or mantilla take their place; a nice fitting boot or ga-ter, and a round hat would make the whole unique. Our dress is thus far a mere experiment, and not what we think it should be. It takes time to revolutionize one's wardrobe, as well as one's opinions."

—A POSER.—A calm, blue eyed, selfcomposed and self-possessed young lady in a village "down east," received a long call the other day from a prying old spinster, who, after prolonging her stay beyond even her own conception of the young lady's endurance, came to the main question which had brought her thither.

"I've been asked a good many times if you was engaged to Dr. C.—

Now, if folks inquire again whether you be or not, what shall I tell 'em I think?"

"Tell them," said the young lady,

"you think you don't know, and you are sure it is none of your business!"

the qualified Democracy, and accep-
